Youngest Engineer In the World.

We defy the world to produce a younger engineer than the one Comberland county can now boast of. This engineer is a girl, Miss Hattie Breese, the beautiful little ten-year-old daughter of Mr. David Breese, one of the most substantial farmers of the county, residing in Flea Hill township. This bright little girl can be seen any day during the school holidays, in charge of a stationary engine, which runs her father's saw mill. She is in full charge of the engine, and takes great pride in her work.—Fayetteville Observer.

WHO THE LEADERS ARE.

Simmons and Rollins Do Some Talking About Butler and Aycock.

Washington, Aug. 7.—In discussing the situation of the republican party in the state to-day, Senator Simmons took occasion to refer to the activity of ex-Senator Butler, whom he regards as the actual head of the North Carolina organization. "While State Chairman Rollins is the nominal leader," observed the senator, "ex-Senator Butler is in reality at the head of the party. This has been apparent for some time, while he may not be the wisest, he is certainly the smartest leader the republican party has ever had in North Carolina. When the psychological moment arrives he will be leading at the dance, just as he did with the populists, and he will be ready to drive a bargain with the organization that offers the best terms." Senator Simmons is just back from Atlantic City, where he has been for the past two weeks with Mrs. Simmons and two young daughters. They will return to Raleigh to-morrow.

Asheville, N. C., Aug. 10.—Special. Republican State Chairman Rollins was seen by a representative of The Post this morning and asked if he had seen the interview with Senator Simmons, sent out from Washington, in which the senior North Carolina senator gave it as his opinion that former Senator Marion Butler was in reality the leader of the republican party in this state.

Chairman Rollins gave an affirmative reply and added that Mr. Butler was in reality not only not the leader of the republican party in this state, but that that gentleman did not aspire to assume such a role.

Chairman Rollins also followed this topic a little further, saying that inasmuch as Senator Simmons had seen fit to express an opinion with regard to the leadership of the republican party, he would take a similar privilege and gave the name of the real leader of the Democratic party.

"Governor Aycock is the man," said Mr. Rollins, "and if the democrats are successful at the next election which appears to be doubtful at the present time, that gentleman will certainly displace Mr. Simmons in the senate."

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Miss Ella Grimbail, of Flat Rock, Came Near Being Drowned.

On Saturday evening of last week a party of about ten or twelve had planned for an evening's outing at Green River Falls. After a drive for an hour or so, they arrived at this beautiful place, and after strolling around from place to place and enjoying the beautiful scenery the young men and ladies became separated, the young men going up the stream.

They had not been gone long when Miss Ella Grimbail, a very popular and attractive young lady, slipped and fell into the stream. All the efforts and the screams of the other ladies could do her no good; she was gone. Down over the rocks and falls she went till she had fallen over two falls to the bottom.

Every member of the party expected to find her dead, but fortunately she had caught to a rock at the bottom and held on until the other ladies could form a chain. By catching each other's hands and the first holding to a limb of a tree, they lowered themselves down over the rocks and rescued her. Fortunately she came out unharmed.

The party was broken up and they returned home as fast as possible.

Convict Shucks his Shackles.

Asheville.—Special. John Chandley, a white man from Big Ivey, who was serving a three years' sentence on the chain-gang, escaped last evening by filing the shackles from his legs. Chandley had only a few days to serve, but was wanted by the state authorities to finish a ten-year sentence in the state prison.

More than twenty-five years ago Chandley was convicted of an offense in Yancey county and was sent up for ten years. After serving a few months he escaped, and it was never known that he was the man wanted until some time ago the local authorities learned that Chanley was the escaped convict.

Bench Warrant for Greenwood.

Asheville, N. C.—Special. Judge McNeil of the superior court this morning signed a bench warrant for the arrest of "Chief" Greenwood, who Monday morning stabbed his wife in so fearful a manner, that she cannot live.

A message from Big Ivey says that her physician has pronounced the wounds fatal and that there is no hope of her recovery. Bud Whittemore of the Big Ivey section, who was here today, says that the attack of Greenwood upon his wife was unprovoked, that the husband wanted the wife to recover several thousand dollars in notes to him; that she refused and he stabbed her. A sheriff's posse is on the trail of Greenwood and it is likely that he will shortly be captured.

HENDERSON COUNTY SCHOOLS.

Letter of Superintendent Ray in Educational Edition, Raleigh News and Observer.

To the Editor:—Since the educational awakening in 1901 Henderson county has built twelve new school houses, has established nine local tax school districts, and now has a four months' term of school in each district.

Much good work has been done and is being done along all the lines of educational progress and the people are more interested than ever before in the history of the county.

Our old time log houses are all gone and we have a very good class of school buildings, ranging in cost of building from three thousand dollars to one hundred and fifty dollars.

Our county has a splendid band of faithful, earnest teachers whose work is worthy of the highest praise.

Yours truly,

McD. RAY, County Supt
